The development of the mohawkite fissure vens will be apt to turn the attention of mining men to the strong fissure veins of copper sulphurets well toward the end of Keweenaw point. These have been neglected heretofore, though known for the past 40 years to exist and to be rich. Mining men and capitalists have been too busy exploiting the lodes carrying native copper to pay attention to copper ores.

at many of the principal mines this month will be reflected in decreased net earnings for the year. The profits will be large, however. ALASKA.

SEATTLE, May 14.—Porcupine Creek is receiving the attention of capitalists this spring and a number of extensive hydraulic enterprises have been untertaken, involving the expenditure of over half a million dollars. Parties who have been connected with large English syndicates new recently severed their relations in order totake charge of these new enterprises. It is estimated that the output of the district this year, under favorable conditions, will amount to 12,000,000. The growth of the country is very pear, under fayorable conditions, will amount to 2,000,000. The growth of the country is very abstantial.

The copper mines near White Horse have passed into the hands of men who are able to develop them, and a great deal of work is contemplated. The deposits are not only large, but the ore is extremely rich, showing a great deal of native copper and free gold.

On Prince of Wales Island new camps are operating along the shores and in the mountains. This appears to be a very attractive find this season; and operations can be conducted at comparatively small cost, supplies of all kinds being readily obtained from Ketchikan, which is but a few miles distant.

Cape Nome continues to overshadow all other mining attractions, and prospectors are tumbling over each other to get there. The Robert Dollar which ordinarily carries 100 passengers were lined up and ten stowaways were found among them. There were five distinctes peditions on this vessel with their boars and outflis, each having a favorite locality picked out. Twenty vessels will leave this port this week for Cape Nome, to be followed weekly by as many more. So profits able has the business proved that many of the large liners are withdrawing temporarily from established routes on the coast and are entering the Nome trade. These vessels announces their intention to cut the time between Seattle and Nome to eight days, and they can do it easily During July excursion stemmers will go on the route, enabling pleasure seekers to see the good miles centered to the time the time and accidentally bit the glass tube in two, so no further test could be made withit. A thermometer was proled and Miss Gregory's temperature rose to the large liners are withdrawing temporarily from the large liners are withdrawing temporarily fro on the northern route, enabling pleasure seekers to see the gold mining camps in their liveliest season. Thus far tolorado has contributed the largest number to the Nome gold seekers, with Montana as a close second, while Washington is a good third, with fair prospects of taking first position, ludging from the manner the fever is spreading all over the State. Men are abandoning good places in every trade and profession daily to join the mad rush for gold. Every boat carries away a number of women.

CALIFORNIA.

Les Angelles, May 12.—An interesting piece of placer mining is being carried on in Presno county by the C.A. S. Company at Millerton, where the San Jonquin River is being turned from its course in order that the bed of the river may be mined. A complete prospect of the hed will be made in July.

Good placer ground has been found in the Inyo Mountains, Invo county, east of Independence. The ground is very rich, but is too wet to be worked thoroughly until later in the season.

IDAHO.

IDAHO CITY, May 13.— The property of the White Knob company at Cliff, seven miles west of Houston, on Big Lost River, better known as the Big Copper, has one of the largest surface exposure of ore that have ever been discovered, and its further development, together with the great belt of mineral of which it forms a part, is liable to put Custer county in a position second to none in the production of copper. The surface ore goes from 3 to 5 per cent. copper and $1 to $5 in gold per ton. Ten miles west of the White knob is Copper Basin, where a group of mines are under course of development. A smelter of forty tons capacity is going up, and, if it proves successful, a large one will be erected. The ledge is 300 feet wide and has been traced for several thousand feet. Between the walls there are two streaks of carbonate and oxide ores, ten to twenty feet wide, that carry average values of from 5 to 50 per cent. copper and $5 to $100 in gold and silver per ton. The ores are splendid for smelting and can be mined at small cost. A carload recently sent to Kansas City netted $000.

The snow is disappearing from the mountains of Buffalo Hump district, in Idaho county, and prospectors are rushing in at the rate of 100 per day.

ABIZONA.

Tucson, May, 11.—The Copper Queen Company of Bisbee has opened up a very rich body of ore in its new working shaft in the Spray mine. The shaft is now down 500 feet.

W. P. Howie has wired the St. Louis principals of the Howie Copper Company of a strike made in their Wetumpke mine. Mr. Howie has cut through nine feet of good carbonate ore.

MUSTARD SEED CIRCLE.

A Notable Charity Carried On by the Contributions of a Few Workingwomen. The Sheltering Arms Home, at 129th street and Amsterdam avenue, which is supported by the Protestant Episcopal churches of this city, is the recipient of a notable fund that is coilected by what is known as the "Mustard Seed Circle." Its history was given to a Sun reporter yesterday by Mrs. Richmond, the matron of the Sheltering Arms Home.

"Six years ago," said Mrs. Richmond, "our attention was drawn to a family in this city.
The father came of a good family but dissipation had ruined him. The mother, who was of equally good family, was ill the greater part of the time. We took in four of the five children without charge and the mother managed to exist and take care of the other child.

"After a couple of years, the mother was on her deathbed. She had been visited by a servant who works in a Fifth avenue home and her deathbed. She had been visited by a servant who works in a Fifth avenue home and who had worked in her younger days for a relative of the sick woman. Just before the mother died she begged this servant to look after the fifth child, and when death came, the servant came to me and asked us to take the little one. I told her that it was impossible, as we already had four of the family in the home and that we could not take in another child unless it was supported. The servant asked me what the cost would be and I told her $6 a month. She told me she would see that it was paid. I remonstrated with her and told her that she could not afford to pay that amount regularly for a child to which she was not related, but she said she would get the money somehow, and the child came to us to live.

"That was the start of the Mustard Seed Circle. This girl went around to a number of other servants she knew and secured promises from them to give 25 cents a week for the support of that baby. She soon got so many contributions that three other children are being supported by these benevolent workingwomen. The originator of the scheme makes the rounds every Saturday and collects the quarters. She has to make many calls before she collects all the money, but it has grown to be a labor of love with her, and she now hopes that she will be able to piace another child in this institution shortly, as the fund is paying a little more than is needed for the support of the four children for whom it is now paying.

"She wishes no aid from outside, and when I have suggested it once or twice she said rather indignantly that she and her friends among the servants could do their share of good without calling in assistance from those better off in the world's goods."

IMPROVEMENTS AT WEST POINT.

Academy on Saturday. They arrived from Washington in a private car over the Wes Shore road at 9:19 They were met at the dep by Col. A. L. Mills and staff and escorted the hotel. The visit of the joint cormittees pertains particularly to an inve tigation of the improvements that w become necessary when the battalion of cade will be increased 100 more by a claus in the Army bill providing for the appoint ment by the President of 100 cadet at large to the Military Academy. The committee drove about all day yesterday and inspected all the buildings and listened to the proposed changes that would be necessary in order to accomodate 100 more cadets. A very large appropriation will be necessary to carry out the desired changes. Many old buildings in the rear of the cadet barracks will have to come down to make room for a large addition to the barracks.

To this increase the War Department attaches much importance. This year's class at the Academy graduates only 54 to supply 130 vacancies in the regular establishment, and after worthy enlisted men are provided for there will still remain fifty vacancies in the grade, of Second Lieutenant. Four years from now the vacancies will amount to 175 with no increase in the properly qualified graduates to fill them unless a large appropriation is made to accommodate 100 more cadets. A review and parade were held this evening at 5 o'clock in honor of the members of the committee. They left this evening in their private car at 7.47 over the West Shore road for Washington. at large to the Military Academy. The con

SHAMOKIN COUNCILMEN CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of Conspiracy in Connection With Paving Contracts. SUNBURY, Pa., May 20.—The jury in the Shamokin Council conspiracy trial this morning returned a verdict of guilty against Councilmen E. O. Zuern, Thomas Holl, O. J. Reed, William Zimmerman and William Reppard of Shamokin; Select Councilman H. L. Boas of Reading and Maier Rothschild of Shamokin, agents of the Montello Brick Company of Reading. W. E. Dixey of Philadelphia, representing the Alcatraz Paving Company of that city; E. S. Ettla of Clearfield and Harry Dixey of Philadelphia, representing the Clearfield Clay Working Company were acquitted. W. E. Kepplinger of Canton, Ohio, and S. W. Seaman of Philadelphia, two more brick agents, were indicted, but the former could not be located in Ohio, while the latter went to Cuba. Seaman also represented the Alcatraz company, while Kepplinger was agent for the Metropolitan Brick Company of Canton, Ohio. The trial was started ten days ago and was bitterly contested by some of the best lawyers in the State. During 1898 and 1899 over $175,000 of street paving was contracted for, during which thousands of dollars were alleged to have been distributed by agents to the Councilmen. Several of the latter played detective to receive bribes, after which the plot was revealed and arrests made last spring.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

The past week showed no sign of any decrease

n the number or importance of transactions in the real estate market and the prospects are that the market will keep its tone well into June. Except in the auction department the business of the week was good. At auction it was not and has not been good for a consider-able time. Views as to the reason for this vary greatly among auctioneers. Lately three unusually good offerings have been made in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, the former Delmonico building and site and the five lots on Fifth avenue, the only ones remaining unsold out of the number purchased by the Barney-Sheldon syndicate last winter. It is understood, of course, that persons go to auction rooms to secure bargains, but the outwas no evident desire on the part of any one to make any very strenuous effort to buy the hotel property. Every one expected that the heirs would not let it go unless something near to the highest market price was offered by an outsider, but it was urged that such a site was a choice morsel at the highest appraise-ment and, although if the greatest results were to be reached extensive and costly improvement would necessarily have to be made, lack of money to carry out a project so sure of mak-less it was supported. The servant asked me what the cost would be and I told her $6 a month. She told me she would see that it was paid. I remonstrated with her and told her that she could not afford to pay that amount regularly for a child to which she was not related, but she said she would get the money somehow, and the child came to us to live.

"That was the start of the Mustard Seed Circle. This girl went around to a number of other servants she knew and secured promises from them to give 25 cents a week for the support of that baby. She soon got so many contributions that three other children are being supported by these benevolent workingwomen. The originator of the scheme makes the rounds every Saturday and collects the quarters. She has to make many calls before she collects all the money, but it has grown to be a labor of love with her, and she now hopes that she will be able to place another child in this institution shortly, as the fund is paying a little more than is needed for the support of the four children for whom it is now paying.

JERSEY GAME AND FISH. Annual Report to the Commissioners-A Lack

George Riley, the Game and Fish Protector of the State of New Jersey, has made his annual report to the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners. He says a feature of his work has been the distribution of 3,000 bass, pickerel and the distribution of 3,000 bass, pickerel and AV CHAT NOIR. of Funds. Raritan Canal He estimates that 10,000 fish can be taken from the canal yearly, but as no ap-propriation was made for the continuance of the work it had to be abandoned. The organization of numerous fishing and game clubs throughout the State, Mr. Riley says, shows the interest taken in the sport and he urges that an appropriation be made so that the work of his office can be carried on. Many applications have been made to him for quail, which he has been unable to grant owing to lack of money.
